I. Definitions

Professional Campaign Fundraiser (PCFR) is a person who is employed, retained, or engaged for monetary compensation of at least $5,000 per year in the aggregate to perform any service directly related to the solicitation of contributions for a candidate or committee.

Person means an individual, partnership, committee, association, corporation, or any other organization or group of persons.

Candidate means a Gubernatorial, Senate, or Assembly candidate.*

Committee means a political committee, continuing political committee, political party committee, or legislative leadership committee.*

* This definition applies only to Professional Campaign Fundraisers and subchapter 21 of the regulations.

II. Registration

What Triggers Registration?

Registration is required when a Fundraiser is compensated at least $5,000 per year in the aggregate to perform any service directly related to the solicitation of contributions for a candidate or committee, and one of the two thresholds below is met:

1. A Fundraiser must plan or organize, or be involved in the planning or organizing of, or attend, at least three events within a 3-month period at which contributions are raised by the Fundraiser for a candidate or committee by whom he or she has been employed, retained, or engaged; or,

2. A Fundraiser must raise money or any other thing of value of at least the contribution limit of an individual to a candidate (please review the contribution limits chart) prior to a primary election or prior to a general election.

What is needed to register?

A person meeting the definition of a Professional Campaign Fundraiser and satisfying one of registration thresholds must complete and file the Professional Campaign Fundraiser Registration Statement, Form FRR, within five days.

In addition, the Fundraiser must submit a fee of $1,000. The $1,000 fee is renewable each year. After registration is completed, the Professional Campaign Fundraiser will receive a certificate.

What information is required to register?

The Form FRR requires the PCFR to disclose:

- The name, business mailing address, and regular occupation or business of the Fundraiser;
- The resident mailing address of a State resident designated as the fundraiser's agent for the service of process (this is only required if the business address is not located in New Jersey);
- A brief description of the general nature of the services to be offered; some examples may include event planning, organizing and maintaining a donor database and donor correspondence;

- The dates and locations of each fund raising event the person planned or organized, or was involved in the planning or organizing of, or attended that qualify him/her as a Professional Campaign Fundraiser;

- The amount of money the person raised at each event;

- The name of each individual employed by the professional campaign fund raiser who receives monetary compensation of at least $5,000 per year from the fund raiser to perform for any candidate or committee, or both, any service directly related to the solicitation of contributions for that candidate or committee, or both.*

*Note: These individuals are not “Professional” Campaign Fundraisers because they do not meet the definition of a “Professional Campaign Fundraiser.” The reach of the law is for those persons who are truly fundraising professionals (emphasis added). "Professional" is defined in Black's Law Dictionary (Eighth Edition, 2004) as a "person who belongs to a learned profession or whose occupation requires a high level of training or proficiency." The inclusion of the word "Professional" in the title "Professional Campaign Fundraiser" indicates that the title applies only to those persons who have experience in fundraising or who are hired because they hold themselves out as having expertise in fundraising techniques or tactics. Therefore, the definition of “Professional Campaign Fundraiser” should not be applied so broadly that each employee of a campaign or committee who is paid $5,000 per year and undertakes some tasks related to fundraising would be required to register as a "Professional Campaign Fundraiser." To read the definition to include "any service" related to fundraising, such as stuffing solicitation envelopes or collecting tickets at the door of a fundraising event, would inappropriately include too many campaign or committee staff members in the ambit of the "Professional Campaign Fundraiser."

III. Reporting

After registration, a Fundraiser is required to file a Professional Campaign Fundraiser Quarterly Report of his/her activities and expenditures on Form FRQ. The Form FRQ is filed on the 15th of April, July, October, and January of each year. If the 15th of any of these months falls on a holiday or weekend, the next business day becomes the filing due date.

What is reported on the FRQ?

The Form FRQ requires the PCFR to disclose:

1. The name of each candidate or committee for which fund raising services were provided;

2. The specific services provided to each named candidate or committee;

3. The gross and net amounts raised for each named candidate or committee;
4. The amount of compensation received by the professional campaign fund raiser from each candidate or committee;

5. An itemized list of expenditures made in connection with providing fundraising services.

The fundraiser must fill out his/her business contact information and certify the correctness of the report.

Note: A quarterly report is still required even if no activity was performed in the quarter. There is a checkbox on the form to indicate no activity.

A professional campaign fund raiser must continue to file quarterly reports regardless of the number of events that person plans, organizes or attends, or the amount of contributions that person receives, as long as the person remains employed, retained, or engaged as a professional fund raiser, and until such time as the professional campaign fund raiser terminates.

IV. Termination

How does a Fundraiser terminate?

A Fundraiser who terminates all fundraising activities in the State of New Jersey must file the Professional Campaign Fundraiser Notice of Termination, Form FRT. The Form FRT must be filed within 30 days of the termination of fundraising services.

Does anything need to be included with the Form FRT?

Please note that if you terminated and the effective date of termination fell within the quarter, Form FRQ is required for that quarter.

V. Renewal

What is the renewal process?

Each year, registered Professional Campaign Fundraisers are required to pay an annual registration fee. The annual registration fee for the calendar year is $1,000 and is due no later than January 31st. The requirement to register and pay the $1,000 fee applies to each individual who meets the definition and reporting thresholds of a Professional Campaign Fundraiser.

VI. Frequently Asked Questions

What are the requirements for employees of Professional Fundraisers?

Employees who do not meet the registration criteria do not have to register, but the names of these employees must be disclosed on the Professional Campaign Fundraiser Registration Statement (Form FRR). If, however, an employee who is compensated at least $5,000 per year in the aggregate to perform any service directly related to the solicitation of contributions for a candidate and/or committee and subsequently meets one of the thresholds, that employee must register, pay the $1,000 registration fee, and file reports; simply having the name of the employee listed on the registration of the Fundraiser/employer does not satisfy the registration process.
Can a corporation performing fundraising tasks register once and pay a single $1,000 fee to cover the registration of all of the professional campaign fundraisers employed by the corporation?

No. The requirement to register and pay the $1,000 fee applies to each individual who meets the definition and reporting thresholds of a Professional Campaign Fundraiser.

Is the $5000 compensation amount individual or collective?

Collective - The fee is assessed per person, if a Fundraiser is collectively compensated over $5000 by two (or more) firms, then he/she would be required to register and pay the fee only once.

Can a firm pay the fee for all of the individual employees?

Yes. One check can be written for all of the registered Fundraisers.

If a person is paid for more services than just Fundraising, how should they separate their time?

Report the pro-rata percent of time related to fundraising.

Can a firm file a single report for multiple Fundraisers?

No. Fundraisers currently must file their own certified reports, even if the same information is included on each report.

Is compensation reported when it is billed or paid?

Compensation is reported in the quarter that the Fundraiser receives payment.

Does a Fundraiser report the total amount raised from an event or the total amount that he/she raised?

The total amount raised by the Fundraiser. For example, if a committee organizes an annual event and the Fundraiser is only involved in soliciting at the event, then the Fundraiser would only report the amount he/she raised.

If a PCFR, employed by a Legislative Leadership Committee (LLC) or Political Party Committee (PPC), were to provide services for individual candidates without charge, would the candidate need to report the services as an in-kind contribution from the LLC or PPC?

Yes.

VII Record Keeping

All records, along with an exact copy of each report as that report has been filed with the Commission, must be maintained for a period of four years after the date of the election to which they are relevant, or a period of four years after the transaction to which the records relate occurred, whichever is longer.

VIII Enforcement

The Commission is empowered to conduct investigations, subpoena records and testimony of individuals, hold hearings, and impose monetary fines for each offense. Criminal penalties for certain willful violations are also specified in the Act.
